The Persian Cultural Center of Atlanta (Kanoon), which was established in 1989, is a cultural-social nonprofit organization not affiliated with any party, front, or particular group. As a civil democratic institution, Kanoon recognizes freedom of expression for all participants in its programs and respects the diversity of ideas provided they are expressed with due respect to other views. Kanoon considers any kind of political, organizational, religious or racially motivated propaganda contrary to its principles and objectives. All members and non-members can rent Kanoon's facility for their activities but Kanoon principles prohibit political or religious propaganda and advocacy of any kind, as well as slanders and lack of respect and tolerance for others views.
